COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course will deal with different fundamental concepts (language policy, language planning, etc.) and areas of language (educational) policy in the French-speaking world more generally. It will provide an opportunity for case studies, through the analysis of complex sociolinguistic, cultural and didactic situations. It will also provide an opportunity to discover different didactic devices (integrated didactics, intercomprehension, bi-plurilingual education, plurilingual approaches, etc.) with an emphasis on the various issues underlying all these language education policies.
